Six systems. Six answers.
One question, and a meeting to decide whose spreadsheet is right.

“How did we do last month?”
Someone pulls four systems into a spreadsheet.
Days to weeks.

“Which locations are making money?”
It gets argued about and never settled.

“Are we going to hit the month?”
You find out
after it ends.

“Why did margin drop?”
Someone digs through it for a day or two.

“Which jobs actually made money?”
After the job closes.
Sometimes never.

AND THE QUESTION UNDERNEATH ALL OF THEM

“By the time you see those numbers, can you still do anything about them?”

MARGIN · THIS MORNING

It is already on the screen.
This morning.

Every site side by side, updated daily.

You watch it coming,
with time to act.

You have the answer in one look.

You know
while it is still running.

AND THEN

Operate Like a Ninja

One set of numbers the whole room believes — and a business that runs on them without being chased.

The Race to Clean Data

ENHANCEDOPS.NINJA · HOW IT WORKS

Data in your hands to make smart decisions.

PHASE ONE Build It

1

Find and clean the data

Every system the business runs on, and the numbers straightened out.

2

Connect what they already use

Nothing gets ripped out, nothing gets replaced.

3

One set of numbers goes live

Two to three weeks, and it is theirs to keep.

PHASE TWO Use It

4

The number nobody could see before

In front of them every morning, before the day starts.

5

Every location side by side

Who is best, who is drifting, and by how much.

6

The owner stops guessing

Pricing, staffing and spend, decided on what is actually true.

PHASE THREE Let It Run

7

The reports arrive on their own

Nobody builds them any more. They simply turn up.

8

It tells them what changed

The late invoice, the job nobody closed, the site that slipped.

9

Month-end stops being a scramble

Nobody loses three days to it again.

Two to three weeks to the first live number. Then it keeps going without being chased.
